RULES FOR USE N.R.A. EMBLEM IN TRUCKEE

A Serious Offense On Part Of Anyone for Misuse Of N.R.A. Insignia

While it is the desire of those in charge of the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign to see widespread use made of the offical emblem of the NRA which bears the words, "We Do Our Part," it was pointed out today by C. Edmunds, general in charge of the big drive in Truckee, that it is a serious offense on the part of anyone who might make improper use of the insignia. Mr. Edmunds made it plain that the NRA official emblem is the property of the United States Government and may not be used or reproduced without authority of the NRA.

"The Government's regulations permit the use of the emblem," continued Mr. Edmunds, "by all employers who sign the President's Re employment Agreement and comply with it, and the regulations also permit consumers to wear or display a similar badge but only in the form authorized for consumers who sign a statement of co-operation.

"The Government's regulations also provide that by application to the NRA any responsible manufacturer will be authorized to make and offer for sale hangers, cards, and stickers provided (a) that he agrees to conform to regulations to prevent the emblem coming into hands of employers not authorized to use it, (b) he himself has signed the President's Agreement and is authorized to use the emblem; and (c) he will sell at a reasonable price. Information regarding manufacturers authorized to supply the emblem will be issued by the NRA from time to time. For purposes of reproduction, the NRA will be glad to furnish original drawings to such manufacturers to the extent they are available but cannot undertake to do so if the demand should prove large.

"Every such manufacturer shall require of every employer ordering such emblems that he affix to his order one of the 1¼ inch stickers. Any newspaper, magazine, or other publication is authorized to reproduce the emblem in the advertisemen of any employer, provided such employer files with the newspaper, magazine or other publication a written statement that he has signed the President's Agreement and affixes the sticker thereto."

With regard to the Government's requirements of the manufacturers of stationery, Mr. Edmunds said: "Any manufacturer of stationery or advertising literature, including labels, is authorized to reproduce the emblem on behalf of any employer who files wtih such manufacturer a written statement that he has signed the President's Agreement and affixes the sticker thereto."

Mr. Edmunds also stated that employers desiring to make other uses of the emblem may consultt the NRA.

Body of Man Found in Reno Park Identified

Police Suspect Victim's Companions Robbed Him and Stole Car. Laundry Tag Used in Identification

The deep mystery which enshrouded a deserted Buick sedan found on a sand flat off the Victory Highway 9½ miles east of Truckee by the California state highway police on July 30th, has apparently been cleared up, thru the identification of the body of a man found in Idlewild Park, Reno, on July 29, which matches up with the identity of the owner of the car.

The car involved, bearing Washington state license number 202-931, found deserted on the sand flat, was unlocked, and the tank was full of gas. The rear of the car was piled high with photographic material.

Officer Stuart of the California state highway patrol had the car towed to the Truckee Garage, and immediately sent notice to the Washington state police. It was found that the car belonged to K. C. Barclay, a prominent Spokane, Wash., photographer. Inquiry at his place of busienss in Spokane revealed the fact that Barclay was on a trip to Ogden, Utah, and that the last they had heard from him was a letter mailed from Klamath Falls, Oregon, on July 28th, saying he would write again from Ogden.

It was thought at first by the police, that Barclay might have met with an accident in the vicinity of the place where his car was found, while attempting to take pictures. And it was suggested by the police that a thorough search be made by a detail of C. C. C. recruits.

State police contacted Reno police, and investigation developed that a man answering Barclay's description, had been found dead in Idlewild Park on July 29th, and that the body had been previously identified as that of Andrew Taylor of Carson City, and buried. An autopsy performed on the body disclosed that death had apparently been caused by heart trouble and excessive consumption of alcohol. A further check, however, has convinced Reno police that the body is that of Barclay.

How the car came to be found on the sand flat 29 miles from where the body of the owner was found, remains a deep mystery.

Reno police seem to be of the opinion that Barclay might have been the victim of companions who may have taken him to the park when they saw he was in a state of collapse, and then and there robbed him of his clothing, money and car.

At the special request of Stanley Bavier, Mr. Charles B. White was also made a member of the committee.

Chairman Stanley Bavier immediately sent a letter to Hon. Justus Wardell, Federal Public Works Administrator for California, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and Oregon, requesting the federal authorities to send the necessary application blanks to the Truckee Public Works Committee, so that they could file an application for federal co-operation and assistance.

A special meeting of the committee was held last Sunday morning, and various public works projects for the town were gone over and a possible program was submitted to the board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District for their consideration. At the weekly meeting of the Utility Board of Directors held Tuesday evening, the letter of recommendations from the public works committee was read and gone over, and a report will be rendered back to the committee by the directors at an early date.

PRINTER'S DEVIL REVISITS SCENE OF EARLY ENDEAVOR

H. F. Clouette, a retired engineer of the Southern Pacific Company making his home in San Rafael Calif., was a recent caller at the Sierra Sun & Truckee Republican office, and stated that he served his time as a "printer's devil" with the Republican back in 1886-88 under Editor Mason.

In speaking about his early days with the paper, Mr. Clouette mentioned that the Republican was printed on a hand press back in 1886-88 which required three men to operate. One man inked the type another man spread out the piece of paper over the form, and the devil did the manual labor; that is the pushing of the squeeze back and forth. When asked how much wages he drew as the "devil," Mr Clouette replied that he got paid off twice a week; Wednesday and Saturday, and received 50 cents on each pay day. "We had a lot of fun in putting out the Republican in those days," he continued, "but—it sure was a tough old proposition."

TRUTH - JUSTICE — STANLEY BAVIER, Editor

Dedicated to the Service of the People of the Sierra Region that No Just Cause Shall Lack a Champion

TRUCKEE AND THE RECOVERY ACT

Under the so-called Recovery bill which has passed Congress, towns and cities may apply to the federal government for funds with which to carry on public works.

For the town of Truckee or any other town which has public work which must be done in the next few years, now is an opportunity to furnish work and do the work at 70 per cent of the normal cost and hire the 70 per cent part of the money needed from the government at a very law rate of interest. It is believed that it will cost about 3 per cent. Truckee has immediate demand for a public works program in order to bring about employment for the unemployed in the community, and to stimulate and increase local prosperity.

It is the town's duty to get back of President Roosevelt's national recovery program, and do its bit towards bringing about national, state and community prosperity.

Truckee needs an adequate water system to embrace the entire town, and the acquisition of such a modern water system would be a great asset in making Truckee a bigger and better place in which to live. We say this with no reflection, whatsoever, upon the three water systems which have rendered service to the best of their ability in days gone by, with the odds very much against them.

A new water system—with sufficient supply of water to take care of the needs of the community, should be undertaken without delay, if suitable arrangements can be made whereby the present three water systems can be acquired by the Truckee Public Utility District. And a new water system can be secured at this particular time with 30 per cent of the public work cost as a gift from the federal government.

Such a new water system would mean: much needed employment for our local unemployed; greatly reduced water rates for the local consumers; an adequate supply of water for everyone at all times; more employes on the payroll of the Public Utility, and thus more money for local circulation among the merchants.

Another much needed public work at this time, when the federal government is willing to step in and co-operate is—a new power house for the Truckee Public Utility.

It is high time that we generated our own electricity, and discontinued purchasing it wholesale from another power company.

A new power house would mean employment for our unemployed; circulation of new money in the community; decidedly cheaper electric rates for local consumers; more men on the payroll of the Utility upon the completion of the power house, and—the federal government would be making us a gift of 30 per cent of the cost of such a valuable asset to the town.

Truckee must assume leadership. It must go forward. It must reach out and take advantage of every opportunity. It must show allegiance to President Roosevelt and the flag, by falling in line and doing its full part in the nation's recovery.

It is the duty of every citizen in Truckee to line up solid in back of a Truckee public works program which will offer much needed employment, and which will put thousands of dollars of new money in circulation in the community.

THE SAME OLD STUFF

At last there is an answer to the people who have been inquiring all through the depression, "But where did all the money go? And everything looks just the same as it did in 1929—where did values go? They must be somewhere!"

The answer comes from the National Industrial Conference Board, Inc., which says comfortingly that the stuff is all right here!

Some of the "money" of 1929 was not money but water and credit bubbles. That has gone forever. Some of the "value" of that time was merely apparent value. It has disappeared with drop in prices, with increase in purchasing power of the dollar.

But the physical assets of the country are right where they were. The house you live in is just as good, barring a slight depreciation due to use and weather. Your wife's diamond ring sparkles as brightly though it would bring less in the market.

Stocks, bonds and other securities, the report points out, not real wealth, but merely titles to wealth. The rise and fall in the value of such securities does not change the physical assets upon which they are based. The apparent values have changed, but the assets have not. They kept on increasing in volume till 1931. From then on they did not increase, but suffered a slight impairment in value.

The value of your house, for instance, impaired because you did not paint it last year, can easily be restored and increased by painting it this year and renewing its shutters and storm doors. Factories are already beginning to paint up, oil up and clean off the rust.

More consoling and stimulating is the consideration that the greatest assets of any country are the mental power and vigor of its people. The value of America's natural resources to the Indian was slight, because he did not know how to use them for his own comfort. We have only started learning how to use them ourselves.

IT DOES WORK!

HAPPINESS

An American teacher, retiring after 40 years' service, delivers himself of this lofty philosophy: The way to complete happiness is self-effacement—the exclusion of selfishness, self-consciousness and egotism.

"In doing this," he says, "we are not able to acquire power, money or glory, but aim simply to help make the other people happy."

It is good religion, good ethics, probably also a good practical rule of life for those who can committ themselves to it. Nearly all the great teachers of humanity agree about it. But the one thing that will puzzle an ordinary American is this altruist's next words:

"That explains the difference between Europe and America—you'll not find many millionaires over there, but they are happy and satisfied."

Europeans, then, are unselfish while we are selfish, and therefore happy while we are unhappy?

Here is a new idea for most of us. We certainly haven't had this slant on Europe. We'd like to hear about it in a greater detail. We'd be interested, too, in seeing it exemplified at the economic conference.

OILINESS IS A COMMON FEMININE SKIN BLEMISH

By JACQUELINE HUNT

HAVE you been told that you have good features and then let the matter go at that? So often the good-looking woman depends on her nice features to get by — but it won't work for long. A neglected, blemished skin, carelessly groomed nails and lack-luster hair will mark you as a very unfastidious person no matter how many other advantages you have.

MISS HUNT

The commoner skin blemishes are excessive oiliness, blackheads and pimples—sometimes all occurring on the same skin. Excessive oiliness is frequently the cause of the latter blemishes, and it also leads to coarse pores and sometimes an acne-marred skin. Cleanliness — scrupulous cleanliness — is of first importance in the treatment of such a skin, and soap is your most dependable cleansing agent.

You can use a good quick-melting cleansing cream first, if you wish, to soften the outer horny layer of the skin and to take away the surface dirt. But your final cleansing must be done with warm water and a pure soap that is sufficiently strong to take away the excess oil on your skin. Soap has a slightly drying effect on the skin that is stimulating and will help the oiliness.

In many cases the oily skin will benefit by a special astringent cream that is the proper strength for the condition of your skin. One excellent cream of this type with its penetrating qualities keeps the skin soft and helps the glands to function properly without adding oil in any way.

Finally, your skin needs an astringent lotion that will act on its surface and close the pore openings. The best astringents contain very little or no alcohol, since alcohol is apt to be harsh in its action on most skins.

The treatment that I have outlined so briefly will also help in improving the blackhead condition—but for quicker results it is advisable to use a weekly mask or special cleansing-astringent treatment until the skin shows considerable improvement. Or you may prefer to use one of the blackhead preparations that I have told you about before.

ANSWER TO QUERY

Dear Miss Hunt: Will you tell me if henna is harmful to the hair? Since the last two weeks, my scalp itches and scales off and my hair is falling out. About a month ago I used a henna dye and I would like to know if this caused it. H. L. McG.

Answer: The pure Egyptian henna which is made from the leaves of the henna plant is not harmful to the hair. Most commercial henna dyes, however, contain metallic salts which may cause irritation to sensitive skins. Shampoo your scalp frequently, and when your hair is partially dry, massage your scalp with a healing, soothing skin tonic, or if it is inclined to be dry, use a little pure olive oil. Avoid dyes of any kind, hereafter.

CHILDREN'S MUSIC

By Griffith Bonner

Music and musical education for young people is well illustrated by the Children's orchestra of the Tahoe City School district.

Music has and always will have its place in the home, whether it be a radio or one's individual playing of the piano or any other instrument.

As we go thru life we all strive for the joy of companionship. What a rich and everlasting companionship one receives from music. The study of the life and history of the great composers is in itself a priceless gem that can never be taken away.

At Tahoe City the children of that district are becoming deeply interested in music. It is to the children that we all have to look for the future of music in America.

Many years ago a mutual friend, Henry Freund, editor of Musical America, regretted the fact that in this country today our American music was sidetracked for that of foreign lands. He pointed out that the beautiful songs of the Kentucky and other mountains were neglected, the songs of the plantations and Negro spiritualists rich in music was cast aside for those of a foreign land and gave many other illustrations.

Students of music realize that we have music and gifted artists in America. In this age where we are becoming "Buy America" minded it seems more than fitting that the youth of our land be taught music. and it is also fitting that they should become boosters for American music. Tahoe City is to be congratulated on the Children's orchestra. Summer residents interested in children and children's music may mail their contributions in care of the Sierra Sun office.

GOD, LET ME GIVE

By Mary Carolyn Davies

God, let me be a giver, and not one
Who only takes and takes unceasingly;
God let me live, so that not just my own,
But others' lives as well, may richer be.

Let me give out whatever I may hold
Of what material things life may be heaping,
Let me give raiment, shelter, food or gold
If these are, through Thy bounty, in my keeping.

But greater than such fleeting treasures may
I give my faith and hope and cheerfulness,
Belief and dreams and joy and laughter gay
Some lonely soul to bless.

* * *

Even the most super-conservatives are obliged to admit that our present economic plight is due to greed. And it has been on this verdict rendered by our economic experts, that the present NRA drive has been formed and the campaign launched.

* * *

It seems so hard for so many persons to understand that greed consumes itself.

* * *

Our present devastated national structure can easily be traced to a group of individuals who became imbued with the flame of desire to outshine and outdo others in the conquest of huge wealth at any cost. Like a raging tornado, these powerful groups swept thru the nation employing every means the human mind could conjure to pile up immense profits and leaving a trail of thousands of wrecked small business establishments and millions of unemployed. Efficiency experts were employed by these financial wizards to cut down man power to the lowest possible imaginable minimum, and to substitute where ever possible, raw products.

* * *

And what, pray, was the incentive for all this waxing with might and main to acquire vast wealth? Nothing in the world but greed. Yes, just plain greed has been the motive which has torn asunder our national fabric, and which has brought misery, dismay, suicide and death to tens of thousands of our fellow countrymen.

* * *

And so here we are turning once more to the old common laws which have been in effect since the beginning of time, which demands that we must give if we are to receive.

* * *

The NRA is nothing more or less than a plan to redistribute the wealth of this country. It is the greatest piece of idealism ever undertaken since the days of George Washington. Will the NRA be a success? Are we—as a nation—big enough to return to the high ideals which were the basis of the founding of this great nation, wherein each and every citizen was to have an equal opportunity to earn a livelihood, and wherein no group of individuals were to be permitted to exercise special privilege?

* * *

This much your average man and woman of intelligence does know that if the NRA is not successful; if the plan is defeated by the group of capitalists who have had control of this country during the last few years, then—you may be sure of at least one thing; that greed will consume itself—and that nothing on earth can prevent a civil war. In other words, the 15,000,000 unemployed in this country have reached the point where they will never stand for the God of Greed to keep on reigning in these United States of America.

The dedication ceremonies last Sunday at the natural amphitheatre between Brockway and Glenbrook was attended by an enormous crowd. Boy scouts directed the traffic and were highly complimented for their very successful handling of it. Carol Lombard, motion picture actress of Hollywood, had the honor of cutting the tape which officially opened this beautiful scenic drive to the general public. Harry Comstock of the Tahoe-Sierra Asoscitaion was the chairman of the day and introduced the speakers. There was music also, and those who attended passed a most enjoyable day.

During the speeches it was announced by an official of the Nevada Automobile Association, that the next step to be taken would be a concentrated effort to make possible the keeping open of the highway completely around the lake during the winter months. This, indeed is music to the ears of we who must remain at Tahoe all year round. Bill Warwick, of the Observation tower, who has leased Meadow Park Resort, has announced that he has already received reservations for the winter months and will make a separate effort to see that the outside world may be able to penetrate our beautiful region and enjoy the beauties of winter here as well as the summer. A unique celebration was held on the beach at Tahoe Pines last Sunday when a crowd of 90 property owners of that district gathered in bathing suits. The unique part of it was the idea, conceived by Mr. H. A. Anthony, who was master of ceremonies, of clearing the beach of the large amount of objectionable rocks which make bathing and wading misery instead of pleasure. After a fine picnic, elders and children alike, went to work clearing away the large pebbles and rocks. It was in the nature of a race, each to carry at least a hundred rocks The ones moving the largest amount in the shortest time were awarded prizes. First prize went to Mr. J. E. Pomin of Idlewild who, armed with a flock of garden tools such as shovel, rake, etc, worked like a Trojan. He received for his efforts a fine portable phonograph. There were also several cash prizes. Beneath the rocks is a fine sandy beach and Mr. Anthony is to be complimented for conceiving such a jolly way of clearing it for future enjoyment. Next Friday another such picnic will be held. In the near future, when the rocks have been removed, fine sand from Sandy Beach will be hauled in and an 8 inch layer spread over the whole.

Dear Readers:

If Swanee's column is a little thin this week please forgive it. You see I've just returned from a week's vacation in Oakland and have not had time to make my rounds. And let me say right here, I'm glad to be back, despite the pleasures enjoyed while away. But . . . we really don't appreciate Tahoe unless we get away from it once in a while So next week will see a more complete column, and until then . . Adios!

MOTORISTS MUST NOT OBSTRUCT FIRE DEPARTMENT

Chief Charles Ocker of the Truckee Fire Department is publishing elsewhere in this issue a final warning to motorists to discontinue obstructing the work of the fire department when the fire alarm sounds.

When the fire alarm sounds, it is absolutely imperative that every motor vehicle keep out of the way so that the fire truck may get to the scene of the fire as quickly as possible. nd the public is again warned about parking in front of fire hydrants and hose stations. This feature will be watched very carefully from now on, and those who violate will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

FISTIC SHOWS NET STATE MORE INCOME

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Augusta 10—(UP)—For the first time in more than a year, boxing and wrestling shows throughout the state showed a gain in receipts during June, the state athletic commission reports

The total receipts of the commission—5 per cent of the gates—was $7,410.13 as compared with $7,277.51 in June of 1932. A total of 167 shows were held.

Receipts for the first six months of the year, however, amounted to $43,790, as compared to $58,311 during the frist half of 1932, principally because of a sharp decrease in the number of shows.

GLEN ALPINE NEWS

Summer in all its cool glory is reigning in the high Sierra around Glen Alpine. There, at a mile and a quarter high—6800 feet—the days are clear and of just the right temperature for the strenuous life. After twilight the freshness of evening induces invigorating sleep.

Both enjoyment and benefit are to be derived from a visit to Glen Alpine. A complete change from the modern sophistications of the city to the simple grandeur of the mountains is exhiliarating. A trip up one of the 10,000 foot peaks thereabouts is inspiring both in the climbing and in the panorama visible from the summit. The outlook from the top of Mount Tallac, with Lake Tahoe just below, is one of the great views of the world. Desolation Valley in all its majesty is considered one of the finest exhibits of glacial action on the continent.

Thirty lakes and streams within six miles of Glen Alpine offer supreme attractions to fishermen. These waters are re-stocked annually with lochleven, Eastern brook and rainbow trout.

Guests of Glen Alpine enjoy its mountainside while living in pleasant, comfortable, reasonably priced quarters. The meals are tastefully prepared from carefully selected foods.

DEPRESSION MINERS FIND LITTLE GOLD

SACRAMENTO, Cal., August 10—(UP)—A healthful outdoor life apparently was the chief reward of "depression miners" during the past year.

According to a recent report of the state division of mines, the amateur prospectors who flocked to the hills in search of gold to lighten their economic burdens averaged less than $50 per capita for their effors. Reports from many counties showed less than $20 worth of the precious metal turned in as the average per miner.

The highest returns were from Siskiyou county, with an average of $57.46; Nevada county prospectors averaged $55.85 and those in Trinity county $0.07.

If it were possible to turn back the pages of time and look at the hardships encountered by our forefathers in their westward trek over the high iSerras to explore the vast westwadr country and compare the present modern method of travel as is used today, buch of the historical facts that mean much to the present modern youth would be of little consequence, and at our doors, for instance, Donner Lake would be of lesser importance when we ponder and think of the recent inauguration by the Varney Air Lines in placing Truckee within fifty minutes from San Francisco by using one of their speed planes to bring week end tourists from the Bay region to the High Sierra City which is in close promimity to Lake Tahoe. YOUR GOOD HEALTH

A Periodic Physical Examination Is Needed to Insure Health

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

DR. RICHARD BRIGHT (an English physician) in 1827 published an article stating that certain forms of dropsy in which albumen appeared in the urine was due to a diseased condition of the kidney in which there was a destruction of kidney tissue. This started a line of discussion which has continued up to the present and has been a great boone to humanity.

* * *

WE HAVE two forms or stages of Bright's disease. The acute form occurs in many of the acute infectious diseases such as scarlet fever, measles, influenza tonsillitis and diphtheria. It frequently accompanies pregnancy or follows extensive burns of the skin and exposure to cold. In this form we have scanty high colored urine, which contains blood, albumen and casts. We may have some fever and a hard pulse. The face and ankles are puffy and swollen. This may go on to severe uraemic symptoms with coma convulsions and death, but generally we have recovery in a few weeks.

* * *

IN ANY case some damage has been done to the kidney and it should be watched for many years. The chronic form is more sneaking and frequently goes on to severe destruction of the kidney tissue before the patient realizes that anything is wrong. The chief reason why the kidneys are so often diseased is found in the fact that the body must eliminate all forms of injurious matter which circulates in the blood mostly through the kidneys. Consequently, they are constantly in contact with injurious substances and suffer in their effort to help other organs eliminate their poisons.

* * *

MOST of the injurious substances floating in the blood are organized infected substances from diseased teeth, tonsils, liver and all other organs, as well as toxins formed in the intestines as a result of general infective diseases. The constancy with which heart and blood vessel diseases accompany kidney disease has caused physicians to refer to it as "Cardio - Renal Disease." Very great destruction of kidney tissue can take place before the person, so afflicted has his attention drawn to it. As a result physicians are constantly warning people to have an examination made of the urine once or twice a year and some of the larger life insurances companies demand that their policy holders have such an examination made.

* * *

ANY attempts to advise treatment has no place in a public article. It is only your family physician who can diagnose and advise. I can only say, if disease is discovered reasonably early and cared for, the patient's chances for prolonged life and comfort are good. It is estimated that more than half of the kidney tissue can be destroyed and the remainder still function with a fair amount of health and comfort.

Norman Brown Presides

The trek of Lions to Greenville began early Saturday morning, and at noon the first session, a luncheon meeting of all club presidents of the council, acting as an advisory committee to the district governor was held. Norman C. Brown, president of the Carson Lions club, presided as chairman.

The business session of the council followed at 2:30 p. m. at Forrest lodge, one-half mile from Greenville, which was attended by representatives from all ten clubs of the council. T. L. Larsen, the council president, presided. There was a general discussion of Lions affairs concluding with the election of officers. A committee on resolutions was appointed, consisting of John Bernard Foy of Reno, Paul Gardner of Lovelock, and Joe Hoke of Portola.

Valley Is Toured

A registration committee also was appointed, and includes R. D. Watkins, chairman; and Misses Helen Schieser and Carmelita Lozano.

On the return to Greenville, a stop was made at the monument to Peter Lassen, built on the site where the pioneer trail blazer made camp, when he first came to Indian Valley.

Banquet Held

The outstanding event on the day's program was the banquet at 7 p. m. at the Greenville hotel tendered in honor of District Governor Dexter. Welcoming addresses were made by F. L. Miller, president of the Greenville chamber of commerce, and R. D. Watkins, president of the Indian Valley Lions club. The response was made by John Bernard Foy of Reno, the outgoing deputy district governor. This was followed by the introduction of guests and visitors.

Ira B. Langdon of Stockton, retiring district governor, was then introduced, who spoke on "The College Graduate." He declared that for the past year, he has attended the best college ever created, "the college of Lion-ism."

Clubs Praised

In closing his talk, he presented the new district governor, Walter F. Dexter, who gave an inspiring address on the subject, "Laying of the Cornerstone." He made reference to the Sierra Nevada Council of Lions Clubs, and paid high tribute to the many civic activities carried on by each club in the council. He declared that the council is rated among the upper class in the fourth district, not only for activities, but for gain in membership the past year.

The gathering closed with a vote of thanks and appreciation to those who had contributed so much in making the session and outing a success.

10 Clubs Represented

Clubs represented at the meeting were Lovelock, Winnemucca, Sparks, Ely, Reno, Carson City, Nev., Portola, Truckee, Nubieber and Greenville, Calif.

The day's program closed with a dance at Greenville Hot Springs where the large dance hall had been profusely decorated by the Firemen's association, hosts of the occasion.

Parson Turns Author

By Griffith Bonner

TAHOE CITY—Special — Friends of the Rev. Paul Little, summer pastor of the Chapel of the Transfiguration at Tahoe City, and regular pastor at the St. Johns Episcopal Parish at Chico, will be interested to know that he has turned author recently completing a 78,000 word manuscript entitled "The Parson's Redemption."

This work is a story of the World War and as Dr. Little served overseas as a chaplain and is the State Chaplain of the American Legion, the narrative carries with it a message that is worth time and study.

It was our privilege and pleasure to read this work of Dr. Little in manuscript form and his fine characterization work, the historical bearings and the historical records in the story appears to the writer that the summer parson of Tahoe City will soon have his name in the big white electric lights of the movies as the author of a work that would be worthy of the Silver screen.

This book has been dedicated to the heroic chaplains of the World War, and we would dedicate it also to the living chaplains of the World War. During the World War it was our pleasure and privilege to meet many fine chaplains of all faiths, and these great men did not stop carrying on when the Armistice was signed, but are still carrying on in the great battle for humanity, to make the existence of their sisters and brothers a little easier in times of stress. Dr. Little has done a fine piece of work in his book. May success be his, and may the beautiful lakes in the Tahoe region, and the majestic mountains standing guard be a further inspiration to his gifted pen and the pens of others.

YUBA MAN FINDS 6 WEEK FRACTURE

YUBA CITY, Cal., August 10—(UP)—Six weeks after he was in an accident, Henry Lance, local resident, learned he had a broken neck.

Ordered to a Sacramento hospital for complete examination, Lance was amazed when the X-ray diclosed the broken neck.

Episcopal Chapel Notes

"We can't settle differences between people, but we can pass on the barriers of hatred and enmity," said the Rev. Emil S. Harper of Brooklyn, New York, at the Episcopal chapel of the Transfiguration last Sunday.

"We have allowed our feelings to grow into mountains and never make an effort to secure an understanding.

"We can also pass beyond our physical disabilities. Helen Keller is blind but has now attained a station in life that few of us can ever reach.

"Our own great President has successfully beaten his way back to health from the weakness of dreadful disease.

"There are no limitations of self. We just think we can't do something and have been bound by bonds of sin, while all about us is the great strength of God. In our joys let us find the beauty of service and holiness and all the things God calls us.

"Whether we are in business, at home, or on a vacation, let us not get beyond the duty and the possibility of Christian service.

"It is the Christian's duty to reach out and let the world know and understand that we are brothers under the skin, in spite of race, creed, and color, and that the same Redeemer calls us all. Let us all realize that we are brothers in religion and all serve the self same Master. We have a barrier in America that we must pass over. There is no place in our country for masses and classes and we should not hear Capital speaking and saying 'Democracy cannot take care of itself.' Anyone who raises such a cry in this land ,and raises the cry of aristocracy is an enemy to both country and religion."

The Rev. Canon Hanson of Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, is the preacher for next Sunday, August 13.

Auburn Mayor Endorses S. F. Naval Base Proposal

By Griffith Bonner

TAHOE CITY (Special)—The unanimous pledge by 109 mayors of Northern and Central California was given to the establishment of a navy base in San Francisco at a special meeting held in that city last Thursday, according to Mayor A. C. Mellinger of Auburn, who represented the Sierra Sun and Auburn at this gathering.

Mayor Mellinger in a special message to the Sierra Sun writes:

"Mayor Rossi gave us a very cordial welcome, in his usual genial manner and explained the purposes of the meeting. Admiral G. W. Laws, commandant of the twelfth naval base, was introduced and earnestly endorsed the purpose of the meeting.

"The God-given facilities of the San Francisco bay area were cited as an ideal location for a naval base, and after listing the many requirements necessary, we, the visiting mayors were unanimous in its recommendation to the Navy Department. We were informed that should the recommendations be accepted over two hundred and thirty million dollars would be expended.

"No one single spot will be selected, and the whole bay area can be utilized, which will benefit every city around the bay.

"We of this district of Northern California will be greatly benefited from many natural causes. We are on the transcontinental highway and railroad, over which a large amount of materials, supplies and munitions will be transported, from their supply base in Nevada, and this transportaion would go thru Truckee. The highways will have to be improved and enlarged. It would also provide a large market for our ranchers in the supplying of fruits and grain. It would improve our recreational resorts from Auburn to Truckee and Lake Tahoe in winter as well as in summer, as many thousands of men and their families who represent the personnel of such a Navy would take advantage of them."

Mayor Mellinger closed by saying "Personally I believe we should get behind this movement and lend our united support."

ASK US ANOTHER . .

HERE ARE SOME OF THE QUESTIONS PEOPLE ASK ABOUT THE PRESIDENT'S REEMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT SOMETIMES CALLED THE "BLANKET CODE"

Q. WHO STARTED ALL THIS?
A. President Roosevelt. It's one more step in his big plan that has already put more than a million men back to work.

Q. WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA ANYHOW?
A. To end unemployment. To wipe out child labor (something the country's been trying to do for generations). And to restore the purchasing power of the richest country in the world.

Q. HOW'S HE GOING TO DO IT?
A. Every employer is asked to split up existing work so that everybody will have a job, and to raise the hourly wage rate, where necessary, so that everybody will have a living wage.

Q. AND THAT'S WHAT THEY MEAN BY THE BLANKET CODE?
A. Yes, it's called the "President's Reemployment Agreement."

Q. DOES ANYBODY HAVE TO SIGN?
A. No. It's a gentlemen's agreement between President Roosevelt and every man, woman and child in the country. He is asking you to lend a hand.

Q. WHY SHOULD THE EMPLOYER SIGN?
A. Because when everybody goes back to work, everybody will spend more money. And that will speed up business for every employer.

Q. WHAT DOES THE EMPLOYEE DO?
A. You work less hours. You share your job with someone else. But you get a guaranteed minimum wage.

Q. HOW CAN THE HOUSEWIFE HELP?
A. By signing a pledge to patronize the stores and industries that display the President's seal—they are SHARING to bring back prosperity.

Q. AND ONE MORE QUESTION—WHAT'S ALL THIS TALK ABOUT AN INDUSTRIAL CODE?
A. The industrial code will be the rules and regulations adopted by each industry for its guidance. But the country can't wait for all these individual codes to be ironed out. We need the blanket code to put men to work, and raise wages, right now!

LOWER TAX RATES EXPECTED AGAIN

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Special to the Sierra Sun

SACRAMENTO, Cal., August 10—(UP)—The $89,204 to be saved by Nevada county as a result of the state taking over cost of public school support under terms of the Riley-Stewart tax plan cannot be used for other governmental expenses, according to a ruling just handed down by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

It was estimated at the time the tax plan was passed that it would save the counties a total of $37,611,435 a year in support of elementary and high schools.

In the Webb opinion it was held that the counties are limited to a 5 per cent increase per year in governmental expenses for the next two years, and that the limitation also applies to additonal funds allocated by the state for public education.

The ruling, it was pointed out, will prevent counties from keeping up the tax rate and using the funds for other activities instead of saving the difference afforded by the new plan. As a result it is expected the change will show up in lowered taxes.

The sales tax which went into effect August 1 was passed principally to finance the additional expense incurred by the state in assuming the major cost of public education.

The attorney general also held that should an ad valorem tax become necessary, it can be assessed on the basis of 25 per cent of all funds appropriated by the state government inasmuch as the broadest base possible would be the most desirable.

THE SLED DOG

By Griffith Bonner
From "Dog Craft"

Here we are in the land of sled dogs—Huskies, Police, Malamutes, Irish Setters, and what have you? These dogs play a great part in the life of the Sierra Mountain region.

Have you ever stopped to realize how important these sled dogs are as a means of transportation, especially during the winter months?

In the famous Truckee and Lake Tahoe district the sled dogs are indeed man's best friend and the best friends of all mankind and humanity. These dogs travel where no one else can, when all traffic is blocked by snow and held at a standstill by the rigors of winter. Only the dogs and their drivers can get thru. The dogs and dog sleds bring medicine from Truckee and other points to the shut-ins, and by means of the faithful dogs many a life is saved during the winter months.

At the lumber camp of Roy Andrews near Brockway, one sees many a sled dog and among them some of the famous dogs from Alaska. At Soda Springs, Scotty Allen has his well known dog teams, winners of many races and long an attraction in the mountains. These dogs are famous for their strength and endurance, and dog races feature the Tahoe winter season. Intelligent dogs like the Tahoe and Truckee sled dogs are indeed a real friend and asset to mankind.

NOTE OF OPTIMISM PREVAILS AT EQUITABLE EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

By Girffith Bonner
Special to the Sierra Sun

TAHOE CITY, August 10—"Unless the men and women of this country get back to the same things that they did 30 years ago there will be 30 millions of persons out of a job and we will have a Revolution in this country. The trouble is we are only getting about 15 per cent of work out of our people," said W. W. Klingman of New York vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States at the educational conference of the society for the San Francisco and Oakland agencies in session at the Tahoe Tavern here today.

"Every worker in the United States today should put his and her cards on the table and make daily reports to him or herself. You and I will have to do this everywhere to climb the ladder to success. Why should any one of us been entitled to represent large business concerns and only give back a small part of our work.

"The forty hour of work program laid down by our great President is a joke with life insurance men.

"This country, however, is coming back, and is coming back fast."

The whole convention seemed to take on an air of prosperity looking forward to the future and in the beautiful setting of the historic Tahoe Tavern a spirit of optimism prevailed.

The convention leaders were J. A. Sullivan, A. W. Carne, both of San Francisco, and Peter Murman of Oakland.

The beautiful blue waters of Lake Tahoe seemed to extend a special welcome to the convention guests and the mountains also seemed to say "Come Again." The Truckee and Lake Tahoe region are an ideal setting for such gatherings if a convention bureau with a live wire secretary with newspaper experience could be secured to preach Truckee and the Lake Tahoe district and the Tavern-Brockway, and all other points winter and summer Many of the insurance men enjoyed the beautiful golf links of the Tahoe Tavern.

Better times around the corner were emphasized by all.

"We are now facing a new deal in prospecting and a new deal in prosperity," was the keynote remark of Arthur K. Deutch of San Francisco, the first speaker.

E. E. Vandehei of Salt Lake City, Utah, gave an inspiring address on some of the real causes for the depression, such as insubordination unreliability, laying down on the job and spending what one did not have. He said one should not resent suggestions, but capitalize them. No man can make a success and no woman can make a success of life without study, as without study and perparation one is obsolete, according to the speaker.

Edwin L. Gross of New Mexico gave a brilliant address on straight thinking. He said in part that straight thinking is nothing more than thinking straight and urged all present to make this a time of taking personal inventory on ones self. He said that the people who did the best work were the people who worked the hardest and urged all present to put their shoulders to the wheel.

Other speakers were J. J. Valentine, B. H. Sellinger, William H. Glines, A. Edward Hall, Sam T Beryer, Winthrop O. Hearsey and T. W. Sproul.

A note of optimism was struck when W. W. Klingman said that 95 per cent of the life insurance companies of this country were going to pull thru the depression.

DIRECTOR MADE LIABLE BY ACT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., August 10—(UP)—The department of agriculture is more than willing to enforce the produce dealers act, but Director A. A. Brock doesn't believe he should pay the claims filed under its provisions.

Reading that the department aids in collection of claims against commission houses, a Seabright potato grower billed Brock for $42.50 which the rancher figured he was "shorted" in a sale three years ago. Later the farmer learned a $1,000 penalty was attached to violation of the acts provisions and promptly sent another bill for $1,000.

The director intends to make it clear to the grower as to who is liable under the act.

Truckee's Fame to Kansas

The recent splendid Truckee celebration for the Governors was given good publicity at the state capital of Kansas, Topeka. Stories of Truckee were in both the Topeka Daily Capital and the Topeka State Journal. These stories were written and sent from Lake Tahoe by Griffith Bonner, one of the representatives of Senator Arthur Capper and the Capper Publications on the Pacific Coast. Bonner also wrote several stories about Will Rogers, former mayor of Beverly Hills, for The Beverly Hills Citizen. He is one of the summer contributors to the Republican and a newspaper man of many years experience. We are very thankful to Mr. Bonner for his interest in the activities of the mountain region and hope that in many summers to come the Bonners will be summer guests here and enjoy the beauties of our mountains.

The total represented an increase of 17,213 cars over the previous month, the report stated.

Sales Tax Rules Are Discussed By Equalization Board

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Special to the Sierra Sun

SACRAMENTO, Cal., August 10—(UP)—Confusion growing out of California's sudden dive into a 2½ per cent sales tax gradually is being ironed out by the state board of equalization with the preparation of a set of regulations and interpretations by which the tax will be administered in the future.

Of primary importance is the warning that California's 85,000 merchants must begin collecting the tax at once, inasmuch as they will be assessed 2½ per cent on all gross retail sales beginning August 1. The first quarter's tax will be due October 1.

At the outset a "break down" system of assessing the tax was agreed to by merchants. The system provided for no tax on sales from 1 to 14 cents, with a slightly higher rate in the higher sales brackets to bring the average to 2½ per cent.

This plan led to the belief that the small sales would not be taxed.

"The public is misinformed with respect to the tax on articles under 15 cents," Professor Rober Traynor tax administrator, said. "Every sale from one cent up is taxed by the state.

The suggested application of the tax is a method adopted by the retail merchants whereby a higher tax is charged upon sales ranging from 15 to 59 cents in order to collect sufficient additional money to cover those sales below 15 cents. In effect every person buying merchandise at retail is paying a 2½ per cent tax on every purchase from 1 cent up.

While it is the intent of the law that the tax should be passed on to the consumer, it is the belief of most officials that the phrase "insofar as the same is possible" cannot be interpreted as mandatory and that the merchant who elected to absorb the tax would not be violating the law.

While the board of equalization is willing to cooperate in devising means of passing on the tax, the burden of collection is entirely that of the merchant. It is hoped that some means can be devised, possibly by the use of stamps, whereby stores making mostly small sales, will be able to collect the levy.

Should a merchant absorb the tax, however, he is not permitted to advertise that fact. The law provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any retailer to advertise or hold out or state to the public or to any consumer, directly or indirectly, that the tax or any part thereof imposed by the sales tax act will be assumed or absorbed by the retailer or that it will not be added to the selling price of the property sold, or if added, that it or any part of it will be refunded."

Other Bible citations will include: "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matt. 16: 25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony. Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul."

SACRAMENTO MAN MAKES 'HOT' BUY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., August 10—(UP)—"That looks like a 'hot' buy," thought John Antifae, wandering through the sales room of a local automobile dealer.

Before laying down the cash, however, John took the car for a trial spin. After a few blocks the car began to feel warm. Then smoke poured from under the hood and flames began peeping through the floorboards.

John called the fire department—also the dealer. He had changed his mind about wanting a car, he said.

FISH is a favorite choice for glorified luncheons any day of the week, but when it appears on Friday its appeal is twofold. Having the right things with your fish main course is another trick that makes fish appreciated, and I am sure you will find that every item on the menus above will meet the test.

Salmon Bisque

Salmon bisque is one of those perfect beginnings on the first first menu that also may be the main course of the meal. Open a pound can of salmon and remove the skin and pieces of bone. Simmer with one and one-third cups of boiling water for thirty minutes. Drain and beat the salmon with a fork until it is fine and creamy. Dissolve a pinch of soda in two cups of milk and heat in a double boiler. Blend two tablespoons of flour into two tablespoons of melted butter and to this add one can of tomato soup diluted with an equal amount of water. Stir until well blended, then add to the milk and the salmon in the top of a double boiler. Stir until thickened and smooth and serve with buttered round crackers that have been sprinkled with paprika and toasted.

Fruit Salad and Cheese

The sharp piquancy of the fruit salad is pleasing as the next course. Remove the sections from two grape fruit and combine with one-third cup of chopped pecan meats and one cup of seeded Tokay grapes. Arrange the salad on crisp cup-shaped lettuce leaves and add a cheese dressing made as follows:

In a deep bowl put one-half tablespoon vinegar, four tablespoons salad oil, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon of juice drained from the grape fruit, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika and a generous tablespoon of finely chopped Roquefort cheese. Beat vigorously until the ingredients are thoroughly blended.

Lobster Thermidor

Lobster thermidor is one of those specialties that you reserve for occasions with a capital "O." Boil three medium lobsters and when cold split them through the middle. Remove the small claws and the gills. Crack the large claws and fill the cavities in the head with the meat from the claws. Meanwhile melt three tablespoons of butter, add one tablespoon flour and blend until smooth, then add one-half teaspoon prepared mustard, one-fourth teaspoon minced onion, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one cup of cream.

Stir until mixture is smooth, then pour over the split lobster that has been arranged in a baking pan. Sprinkle with grated American cheese and bake in a moderate oven for ten minutes or until the cheese is brown. Serve half a lobster to a person. This serves six. Canned lobster arranged in small ramekins may be used if you wish.
